

Information Security Policy

1. Overview & Purpose

QPS Holdings Inc. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), founded in order to establish the space industry in the Kyushu region, is now aiming to expand the possibilities in space and make our earth a better place with the world's top satellite development and technology capabilities. We recognize that the satellites we develop support the development of society and improve the Earth we live on, and that the management and operation of these satellites and the data acquired by them are important to society. Based on our corporate philosophy, we declare that we have established on a information security policy, and that we will implement and promote this policy in order to live up to the trust of society as a whole.

2. Scope

The policy applies to information assets related to all business activities managed by the Company.

3. Information Security Policy

In order to appropriately implement information security management to protect information assets, the Company shall formulate an information security policy based on the Information Security Regulations and make it known to all employees. This includes policies and measures to protect our information assets from various threats and to respond to risks, whether intentional, accidental, or negligent.

4. System

For the implementation of information security management, the Company executes as follows.

- (1) the Company will assign a person responsible for information security and promote the establishment of information security.
- (2) the Company will establish a management system and an incident response system based on the Information Security Policy.
- (3) the Company will implement appropriate information security measures according to the information assets.
- (4) the Company will provide education and training necessary for the proper use and management of information assets and for improving security literacy and to improve security literacy.
- (5) In order to maintain our information security efforts and respond to changes in the business environment and social conditions, the Company will periodically evaluate our information security management system, including the above, and make continuous improvements.

Shunsuke Onishi
President and Representative Director of QPS Holdings Inc.